No News

We received no dispatch last evening and the mail brought no papers from California, so that we are compelled this morning to publish a newspaper without news greatly to our regret What has become of the telegraphic institution between here and Sacramento, we know not Of late, it is of very little more use to us or the people of Oregon than the Atlantic cable For the last month, it has been as still and silent as a dead Indian Whether it will ever again open its mouth and wag its lightning tongue seems to be very uncertain, but we do beg Mr Basset, at Yreka, who we know is not in fault, to try to squeeze out a brief message for us, especially at a time like this, when we are anxiously waiting to hear tidings of intense interest Since our last dispatch, there have probably been two great battles, and each may have been decisive of the immediate fate of the rebellion. During the whole year there has been no time when we looked and waited for intelligence with so much substitude as now As we cannot help ourselves, however, and are obliged to be patient in spite of our zeal, we respectfully commend the same virtue to our readers

Causes of Opposition to the Government

The main charges made against the administration by its northern foes are based upon the Emancipation proclamation, and the enlistment of colored men Petty scribblers and foolish conventions, with no more authority than the mere assertion of any individual, denounce these acts as unconstitutional Now there are two modes of settling these questions one is the exercise of the power given, by the officer to whom it is conferred, who thus proves that he deems it constitutional, and the other is the judgment of the Courts, to which parties aggrieved may appeal Until such an appeal is made, the measures referred to, are constitutional, for all practical purposes—the frothy words of all simple or treasonable conventions to the contrary, not withstanding

The proclamation question is simply—can the President, as Commander in Chief, in time of war, declare the slaves of our public enemies free, if by so doing he may more speedily accomplish the desired military result and secure the establishment of the power of the government in all its domains Out of this question grows another—whether, even admitting this step to be legally right, the military result can be obtained The President decides that it can, and though no citizen is bound to believe that his decision is correct, yet all ought to do what they can to give him fair and ample opportunity to prove himself to be right. He, who simply because he thinks the President errs in judgment, seeks to put obstacles in his way, holds the public good subordinate to his own opinions, and is a selfish partisan, rather than a patriot. So too, in regard to the question of Constitutionality, the President by his own act has decided in the affirmative He has sworn to support the Constitution, and must be presumed honestly to believe that all his proceedings are in accordance with the requirements of that instrument. These acts of Mr Lincoln settle this matter, for they are the highest authority which we can have upon the subject, till some one who has suffered thereby, appeals to the judicial power, and gets a decision in his favor Sympathizers in the north, where rebel rights to slavery seem to be most tenderly cared for, cannot raise the issue, for they have no injuries of which to make complaint Nobody is affected save the rebels in open revolt, and as they spurn the National courts, and reject their protection and authority, they cannot complain because they lose what is sacrificed by their own treason and crime We see no cause for the interference of loyal men in their behalf, while we admit that it is natural that Northern traitors who wish the rebellion to flourish and succeed, should strive to divert attention from the wickedness of its founders, by abusing the officers of the Administration, for acts, the justice and righteousness of which, those most affected cannot and dare not question, while they are in a state of rebellion When they wish the courts to be in operation as before and to get questions involving their rights decided, let them cease their opposition to the re-establishment of such tribunals, by ceasing their resistance to the national authority, which has heretofore protected them Till then, they can claim nothing and northern sympathizers and traitors at heart, ought to be ashamed to ask clemency for them, or to oppose measures which tend to save the land, and to secure protection to the rights of all

"ANY OTHER MAN"—Probably few who use this expression, are aware that it is a quotation from Scripture, as any one may see by turning to the 16th chapter of Judges, where Delilah was coaxing Samson to disclose to her the secret of his great strength His reply was—17th verse—If I be shaven, then my strength shall go from me, and I shall become weak, and be like any other man

RESTORATION OF TENNESSEE TO THE UNION One of the editors of the New York Times a Tennessean by birth has recently returned from a visit to his native State, and publishes his views of what he saw and heard favorable to the returning loyalty of the people and the prospects of a speedy restoration of that State to the Union He found that those known as the most determined and intemperate secessionists had made up their minds that the cause of the Confederacy was hopelessly lost, and that Tennessee was permanently restored to the authority of the United States The mass of the people would immediately set about the work of restoration were it not that they are materially coerced not by fear of the murderous guerrilla bands which infest the State and to remedy this evil governmental efforts are proving, by degrees, very efficient, and are aided in some instances by volunteer organizations of citizens who have suffered from the guerrilla depredations The leaders of this anti guerrilla movement are men who have been originally secessionists and some of them have even served in the rebel army, but now they are for peace and a restored Government

The people are freely going to the military posts and taking the oath of allegiance They do so without reservation They are no ashamed of the act, for they say they joined issue with the North, agreeing to abide by the decision of arms, and the battle has gone against them, the Confederate authority has been extinguished and they are therefore bound to submit to that of the United States and its laws

All parties admit that the war has demolished slavery, and the desire is expressed that after emancipation there may be a complete separation of the whites and blacks through the removal and colonization of the latter An increased white population and the more economical system of white labor are now looked for by some of the strongest supporters heretofore of slavery and secession It is not perhaps certain that an anti slavery feeling has yet taken a strong foot-hold in the State but all seem to look upon the early decay of the institution as a certainty, and are ready to grasp at Union and peace, and let slavery die out through its own weakness The Boston Journal says

We have seen a private letter from Tennessee which confirms all that the Times editor says of the change of opinion with regard to slavery It mentions by name many slaveholders who are strongly in favor of emancipation One old man said in a meeting, at which one hundred or more were present —that he "had been a slaveholder, and a hard master He had lost all his slaves and it was the punishment of God for his sins God had permitted this rebellion as a punishment for slavery and he would continue to punish them until they repented or and abolished it These remarks were loudly applauded by Tennesseans

FROM THE MINES —We are indebted to Mr Holland for a late copy of the Boise News it contains but little news of interest Rev C S Kingsley of this city was to preach at Bannock November 22d

A man by the name of Brady was amusing himself and the other Bannocks by walking on a bet, one hundred consecutive hours without rest or sleep The News says

He looks somewhat haggard, having been on the track about 80 hours we are convinced that he will make out the trip on the square He is under the surveillance of six citizens who attend to see that he keeps up his lick, their names are Capt W M Throp, Richard Ralston I N Smith R Moore, M Cody, P Degan and P Leffler one of whom is always present It appears to us a foolish experiment and one that should be discouraged A man has no moral right to abuse himself to such a degree and we can see no why it would not be just as much endurance quite as well, as for us to be testing to spectators if he would show the people how long he could sit upon a red hot stove without changing position

A bad and disreputable report is given by parties recently up from Auburn that a party of prospectors somewhere between the Owyhee and Malheur while out hunting for their horses, came across a band of 16 Indians, and taking it for granted that they had stolen the horses disarmed and killed the whole party The horses were soon after discovered grimly lested The scalps were displayed in Auburn afterwards, much to the dismay of the citizens who look upon the proceeding as cruel and without reason or provocation, and dangerous to the safety of travelers in future.

A Catholic Church has been dedicated at Bannock by Rev Father Mesplie

INCIDENTS OF CAMPAIGNING —From North Carolina come the following incidents of soldiers life

The following has been told me of the siege of Newbern Just before the battle began a militia Captain was endeavoring to get a company of home guards organized to go down to meet the Invader The men were on the ground and the Captain, who had evidently never read Hardee s tactics wanted to form them into two ranks, but instead of the usual order, 'In two ranks form company—march' substituted one entirely original and shouted in the top of his voice, 'In two lines right start—by ahead'

That is almost as good as the following report of one of the colored regiments lately organized It is one who has ever seen a dress parade knows that just before the ranks are broken, the Adjutant gives the order, 'First Sergeants to the front and centre' when the representatives of all the companies form a line at the front and centre of the regiment and each one, from Company A to K, after making the proper salute, says 'Company—all present or accounted' The usual outlines had been performed in the colored regiment, and the Sergeants ordered to the front, when the sable Orderly of Company A after coming to a shoulder and bringing his left hand to a salute, forgot what to say, and in that position looked right and left greatly embarrassed "How is your Company? asked the Adjutant Will a chuckle of relief Sambo quickly replied, Company all well, well, tankee, Sar!

RICH QUARTZ DISCOVERED IN LANE Co —The editor of the Eugene Review says he saw last week about 1 000 pounds of specimen rock, taken from the lodes on Blue river, lately discovered by Mr Reed, and also from a lode more recently discovered on the Mckenzie several miles below the mouth of Blue in Lane county These specimens are to be sent to San Francisco for assay, and after the result is known will be a safe time to speak further of the mineral resources of the region in which the rock is found, but if some of the rock shown does not yield much above the assays of rock tested at Portland from districts in the Northern mines, all judgment based upon appearances is utterly fallacious A large portion of the rock bears a close resemblance to the silver ores of Washoe and all of it indicates the presence of metals or minerals Mr Reid speaks very confidently of the prospects of his last discovery and has traced the lode about three miles A part of the quartz was taken from one of the lodes first discovered, some ten feet below the surface, which looks richer as the shaft progresses

THE NEW CLUB at Washington is a Bull the Metropolitan The solicitor of the Treasury is President, and cards billiards, newspaper and social converse are the recreations

THE PRESIDENT AND THE MISSOURI RADICALS We have heretofore alluded to the reply made by Mr Linc In to the appeal from Missouri, and for the sake of placing before our readers, the other side of the question we copy the following article from the N Y Independent which is well known to be faithfully devoted to the cause of the Union and of Liberty While we think some of its remarks rather ill regarded at this time, there are many considerations which well deserve the consideration not only of the President, but of all who desire to see the war pushed with energy to the most speedy termination possible

The Missouri Radical letter we have noticed with pain and regret. It is impossible to misunderstand its bitterness of meaning. Weighing both sides of the argument in a spirit of candor this Convention is by Indeed, in saying that he weighed both sides of the question we give him more than his due The action of the delegation as a whole in the President does not answer but first mistakes to [illegible] letter were their instruments Its [illegible] feelings of [illegible] which the address [illegible] are strong He weighs his words and says one men Frank but we do not see that he is confounding Mr Drake The President says on glancing to examine some of the names of the delegation, and finding several against him, he suffer with them It was thus and rather than [illegible] was especially unjust [illegible] to fully ignore Thus we think in Missouri the policy of the Federal Government is now outstanding but for the interests of the slave power Mr Lincoln expresses his confidence that many of the best Unionists are entering his cabinet as advisers to the Union [illegible] As for his Emancipation now has whether right that he appeals to speak the plain truth to the [illegible] The letter to Missouri delegation is extremely frank on the fall that yielded the golden apple to the Illinois Convention But as not by unmeasured [illegible] We are not willing fault finders—not spiteful critics The President is a man whose personal sentiments are undeniable good intent keeps criticism half unnerved The bad argument which he has put together we have noticed for picking it piece by piece [illegible] At his remote distance from Missouri we cannot see from extraordinary knowledge how far he speaks and in broad facts in these matters may be sustained in St Louis or must be appreciated in Washington We do not undertake to say what are the merits or demerits of the Missouri State Militia nor what control steps on the night Lawrence was burned nor want section 1 thereof strange [illegible] Governor Gamble in order to do up Radicalism how much of an exception or [illegible] whether General Schofield ought to be plucked up by the root or simply pruned in the branch We will not say that on all the points the delegation were altogether in the right and the President altogether in the wrong But how we help saying that the President, whether right or wrong, in these particulars, has grieved to the heart his best friends and supporters by closing his ears against the earnest, able and grooming heroism of their representatives which is, that he permits slavery to overrule reason in that State and appoints his enemies to govern his friends? Is the President aware of the magnitude of his blunder? While seeking to put down a rebellion in the South, he pu down the chiefest loyalists in the West While waging war against a formidable enemy, he strangely strikes down his staunchest supporters While attempting to save Missouri to the Union, he marvelously throws the State out of the hands of its truest defenders and takes sides with a suspected opposition who at all times have been willing to compromise with the rebellion

Who are the Radicals of Missouri? They are the finest fiber of the State—the best heads and hearts among the people. Their loyalty, beyond other men, has been tried in the furnace and found pure gold Their patriotism is not worn like a garment for fashion, but ingrained as a principle of their life Their sufferings are a story yet untold—of houses burned of goods destroyed of families mutilated, of graves multiplied And all for what? For a manly and outspoken support of the cause of free dom—for an unfaltering devotion to the best interest and honor of the republic Dwelling for years in the midst of slavery—not hitherto known as Abolitionists—they have not been so blind to the signs of the times as not to discern that slavery is the rebellion, and the rebellion is slavery and when either falls the other cannot stand They have consistently to their anti slavery opinions, taught by a bitter experience They are such men as Abraham Lincoln would be were he to live among them and suffer with them It is a thus and rather that he is waiting up in Washington? If before writing his letter he could have spent a week in Missouri and been awakened every night by the crack of a prowling rifle in the neighborhood he would have answered Drake with his manful "No" It is by such logic as this—of arbitrary laws and sleepless nights—of barns set on fire and cattle stolen—of houses entered and sacked—of good men left slain at their own doors—that the Radicals of Missouri have been persuaded into their radicalism They have well earned their honorable name! On the breaking out of the war the anti slavery men of Missouri were a small minority At that time throughout all the State the radical men were a minority The wise men in any country are low till Providence teaches the multitude by a bloody experience With the progress of the war there was a progress of free sentiment in Missouri The good sons which Abraham Lincoln dashed out of Fremont s hands fell into the soil, and have already come to a harvest Every succeeding election demonstrated the growth of the anti slavery party It gathered to itself the best men of all the old parties It is now the hope of Missouri—on which she builds her prospective freedom and prosperity Now against this party the President has turned his face Famine coy smiles upon its enemies Is he wise? He has not committed a greater fault since the day he quenched Fremont s proclamation If he does not see his error in the bud he will taste its bitterness in the fruit

Why has the war been so long drawn out? Because the President at the beginning—as it proved determined to make his hard work harder—hung round his neck the millstone of the border States Does he not wear Kentucky like a collar to this day? Vicksburg with a collar fights slow Is it not high time for the Commander in Chief to learn that a policy which favors slavery fosters the rebellion? If Jefferson Davis instead of Abraham Lincoln had been called to decide whether the petition from Missouri should be granted or denied, would he not have done just what the President has done—sent home the delegation with a denial ringing in their ears? Does the master of the President, thereof resemble a blow at the rebellion or put a prop under it? The foulish child's play, unmanned statesmanship which characterized the whole second year of the President s term was corrected by the changed policy ushered in with the decree of emancipation The new year crowned itself with new hopes Those hopes have been fulfilled with many noble victories during the year But now that we are drawing nigh to the promised land are we to be led back to the flesh pots of Egypt? Are we to return ourselves to the early trifling with the rebellion? Did the President strike slavery so hard on the first of January that he now seeks to parry the blow The President disappointed us long ago in Missouri in his seeking to hide the darkness of the enemy in overgrowing it with a second shadow? One thing is certain Lincoln cannot make the Radicals of Missouri his enemies if he tries Indeed he has been known to say that he could count always upon such men and could therefore afford to offend them for the sake of getting with the Democrats Policy such a policy worthy of a man so generous as Lincoln is a traitor to himself He letter of Dec is cheerful in spirit—calm patriotic silent We hope it is a foreboder of the temper with which all the Radicals of Missouri will receive the President s decision, when it is known But as faithful are the strokes of a friend and the kisses of an enemy deceitful, let the President remember that the just censure which he has provoked proves his sharpest critics to be his best friends while the fulsome praises which he is now receiving for it from the opportunist press is proof only of a sudden calamity which for crafts also has broken out into smiles

The loyal men in Missouri and the loyal men in East Tennessee are a true band of patriots whose traits, sacrifices and fidelity ought to win for them action on equal shares The President s system But let these stand in Mr Lincolns, these champions of free loom and the Union know that they are not forgotten by a grateful country The pulses of thousands of hearts in the East beat in sympathy for the brave men of the West Their trials are great —but her courage is high, their patience strong and their triumph shall come in time But there death could not [illegible] that the Chief Executive of the nation [illegible] putting off himself of last strength [illegible] We believe that when the war shall finally exhibit its banners into the hands of peace, and the nation struggle shall be retraced in retrospect the President of the United States—who as many Christians overmastered—will look back with regret upon the [illegible] who helped him at first and with which he was constantly afraid to part company diseases but by first purifying the whole system so as to create a healthy circulation.

THERE is no other way to cure

The first medical men of the age agree with us, that no disease of any extent can be cured without using such medicines as will act directly upon the blood Why so many medical men have failed to cure of one disease is because the medicines used have not been such as will act beneficially on the blood

The many thousands of bottles which have been used by the public and the many gallons and barrels supplied to the physicians warrant us in saying that the last two years we have been more successful with our Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup in curing hopeless cases of chronic diseases than have any other remedies in the hands of physicians or before the public

It is now admitted that no combination known to the profession acts so promptly upon diseases as our SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP

TAX DEPARTMENT ELECTION — The election yesterday was very quiet and conducted in a manner highly creditable to our citizens The total vote polled was 167 Of these Mr Buchtel received 94 and Mr Bath 67, for Chief Engineer Buchtel's majority 27, for Assistants M Joretsky received 169, scattering 16 Mr W D Carter 168 Mr W H Holmes not brought forward until a late hour in the day, received 40 votes and was elected Second Assistant A collection in aid of the Library Fund was started a short time previous to the closing of the poll and the sum of $20 was raised We wish the Department success and prosperity under their new organization

ALLEGED ROBBERY — F M Layton, who has been at home near Albany returned to this city from the mines on Saturday with $600 in dust. He sold a portion of it for coin and went in company with Harry Hurlburt, an employee on the Ferry last summer to the house of Levi Knott to deposit the balance for safe keeping By some means, Hurlburt gained access to Layton's room, which he handed to Mrs Knott, telling her that he had won it at gambling and requested it be taken care of On Sunday morning he went to Mr Knott drew the money, left for the upper valley on the boat while Layton was asleep The victim did not know of Hurlburt's transactions until Sunday night when he was unable to telegraph to Salem, owing to the wire being broken—it is thought by the agency of the thief Mr Layton left Salem yesterday, though with but little hope of recovering his money

FOUND AND GOT THE MONEY —As a party of men were passing along First street this morning, their attention was attracted by the glitter of what at first glance seemed to be a grand display of $20 pieces, in the window of Randall's Music Store One of the party said that the proprietor must have plenty of eagles, to have them 'lying' round in that way One of his companions said that they were double eagles, whereupon a bet was made, a third companion held the stakes, and the party entered the store to have the bet settled by the proprietor The glittering stuff proved to be a lot of very nice gold pens just received for the holydays While on the subject, we cannot forbear an allusion to the varied and very elegant assortment of goods now displayed by Mr Randall many articles are just received from the best establishments of Europe and the Atlantic side a choice assortment of assorted goods from Paris is now on the finest ever opened in Portland His stock of reticules card cases, port monnaies, opera glass, porcelains and French stone ware, fine wood and paper mache shell top work, inlaid writing desks and work boxes, ladies' and gents' dressing cases and perfumeries, opera glasses, gift books and photograph albums, sheet music and music books among which are the 1st and 2d vols of Home Circle, a multitude of others, toys of all sorts and kinds, dolls babies wise and otherwise are well worth seeing and buying Old bachelors will find there a baby that 'll cry when they want it, and would be "so handy to have around the house." Randall's Mechanism —Goldsmith Brothers in their store on Front street recently imported from Paris, which has attracted the admiring gaze of large crowds, so large, indeed, that it was necessary to remove it from the show window to that passage by their store might not be impeded by the curious throng The figure, although represented as an excellent housekeeper, is a small brass plaim faced figure of modest affair, secured at the foot of a beautiful rose tree, and upon a neatly finished floor of dark, fine wood Within the figure are the works of another clock, which, when wound up, drive a musical cylinder which keep several birds twittering and flitting from the branches of the rose tree above mounted at $125

ARRIVALS FROM UNION PRISONERS IN RICHMOND —It appears that the prisoners at Richmond are compelled to write to their relatives under some restraint, and disguise their true feelings and situation, in order to secure a continuation of their missives beyond the lines of treason We are informed by W Hicklin, Esq, who resides near this city, that his brother, H H Hicklin, also an old settler here, was a member of Co A, 36th Regiment, in Thomas' division at the battle of Chickamauga where he was taken prisoner, and conveyed to Richmond prison A letter from him in the prison was received here Saturday in which he states that he is not treated quite so bad as has been represented The letter does not exhibit the freedom of expression which characterizes most of his ordinary correspondence, and indicates surveillance of communication on the part of the keepers

PROPERTY TAXES —By reference to an advertisement of City Collector McCoy under the proper head, it will be seen that all who desire to avail themselves of an increase of five per cent to their taxes, can do so by paying up before the 1st of January

Chronic Diarrhœa Cured by DR BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA when everything else had failed

WESTFIELD Ia, June 22, 1862

MESSRS A L SCOVILL & Co—Gents I have been most awfully afflicted for the last three years with the Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form I have tried more than a thousand prescriptions from numerous physicians and all without the desired effect My case was said to be beyond cure and I believed it myself I commenced using Dr BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA with but little faith but I followed the directions given, and to my great surprise the fifth dose had in a measure check'd my disease It is about seven days from the date of this certificate since I commenced using Baker's Panacea and I am nearly as well as ever I am confident one more twenty five cent bottle will entirely cure me Please accept and use this certificate as you see proper Inasmuch as I owe my life to the inventor of the invaluable Panacea

Truly yours DAVID T BOTTS

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

No and Yes

BY THEODORE TILTON

I was left hour at her mother's door,
As I have many times before,
Of waiting and of waiting.

But when a maid opposes
And throws away excuses,
You say the Greek for Yes.

Yet sorry wit am new
Who lives and thinks he loses
Because a maid refuses

For by her once denying
She only means complying
Upon second trying.

When first I said in pleading
Beneath my love's bleeding,"
She heard me half in fun.

When afterward I told her
And found her gravely cold to
She knew I spoke upon my shoulder

Had I a doubt? That instant
Her every look did signal it,
I caught her hand and held it

Along the lane I led her
And while her cheeks grew redder
I used cut right to wed her

Got I and from bad beginnings?
My wooing came I winning,
And still I watch her spinning.

THE GAME OF STOCKS—FORTUNES MADE AND LOST.—This exciting game was never more desperately played than during the last twelve months. The perturbations of Wall street have been tremendous. Almost fabulous fortunes have been acquired in the space of only a few weeks, and in some instances in a few days, and, on the other hand, the life time savings of hundreds of industrious men drawn by such examples into the vortex of speculation, have disappeared as suddenly as snowflakes that fall into the sea. The mutations in some descriptions of stock have been almost unparalleled. The shares of a certain company, not long ago, ran up sixty per cent., in the course of a few days, and it is within our knowledge that one man, who two years ago could not have raised eight hundred dollars to save him from perdition, realized by his dealings in this scrip alone, five hundred thousand dollars! An individual, who was only a short time ago a hand on board a bay steamboat, has found his Ophir in Wall street. He is to day a millionaire, directs the operations of banks, and exercises controlling influence over at least one important railroad. Incredible as this may seem, it is literally true. Writers for the press are rarely favorites of fortune. Should there be a shower of gold, the place to look for them would be between the drops, but even one of these chanced to be in the right place, at the right time, during a recent auriferous downfall in Wall street. He was the financial reporter of a daily paper—a gentleman who worked hard, and thought his labors fairly compensated at twenty dollars a week. Being an economical person, he contrived to save out of his moderate earnings a few hundred dollars. With this small sum he began to "operate."

His sources of information were of the right kind, his head clear and cool, his courage dauntless. Nobody save the broker he employed was aware of what he was doing, for he was a wise man and kept his own counsel. He moved about the "street a "mere reporter," with a vigilant eye to his duties, it was supposed, but apparently nothing more. By and by, however, he threw up his situation, and, with two hundred and fifty thousand dollars in his pocket, retired to Europe to live like an aristocrat!

But there is another side to the picture, of which the world at large sees and knows very little. For every speculator that has been enriched by the late rocket like rise in "fancy stocks," fifty have been buggared. If one could look into all the households that have been hopelessly impoverished through the stock gambling epidemic, which for the past year has prevailed among all classes and conditions, such spirits of success as we have referred to would seem a very meagre dividend upon the general investment. The gold dealing mania—we call it a mania, for any person witnessing the excitement of the crowd engaged in buying and selling the commodity, without knowing the cause of their wild looks and vehement gesticulations, would deem them madmen—has ruined thousands, and will yet ruin thousands more. Advice, we presume, would be thrown away upon those who are already fairly awhirl in the Wall street maelstrom, but to those who are hovering about the mazes of the vortex, uncertain whether to tempt its perils or not, we say most emphatically—avoid an abyss which engulfs at least seventy five per cent of all the Jasons who embark on it in search of the Golden Fleece.—New York Ledger.

GEN. BANKS.—A New Orleans correspondent of the St. Louis Republican writes as follows, concerning the commander of the department of the Gulf:

In regard to Gen Banks the social opinion is so favorable as to excite the suspicions of his more radical friends in New England, who think that it is a bad sign for a commander to be so popular. I cannot see the subject in that light, Gen. Banks has a hand of iron in his glove of silk.

"And what do you think of Banks?" I said at dinner, yesterday, to a lady who had been eloquent in disparagement of Butler.

"I think he is a gentleman," she replied proudly.

"But," said I, "he can be very hard on rebels."

"Yes, to be sure," she rejoined, "but he is a gentleman."

And, after all, the feminine preference for a ruler, who rules with grace and dignity, be he ever so strict, is probably correct, like a great many other feminine instincts.

Gen Banks' radical friends need not be greatly alarmed about his future. He is not going to do anything "soft." He will not be wheedled or fooled by any secesh siren, or rebel respectability. He can be severe without cruelty, and will hasten slowly in his work of bringing back this department to the National domain.

In the meantime, he keeps his secrets well. You will hear rumors of movements on Mobile, of movements on Texas, of movements across Western Louisiana, but not until they actually take place will the public know exactly what is being done. Is not this reserve rather commendable? Have we not too long pursued the policy of advertising our military intentions?

GOT THE APPOINTMENT.—John Conlin, son of a poor Irishman, of this city, has just been appointed to a cadetship at West Point. It has been his ambition for years to get the appointment. He acquired a very fair education at the free school in this town, he made several efforts to secure the appointment, and enlisted as a volunteer for the purpose of earning a claim to it. He went bravely through several battles and when at Washington went directly to the War Department, told his story, the circumstances of his parentage, his aspirations, and services as a soldier, and Secretary Stanton informed him at once he should have the appointment. And he has received it, being appointed from one of the districts of Georgia. We ask the adopted citizens, who are too prone to be influenced into denunciation of the Government, if there is any other under the sun, where this would have been likely to occur!—Rutland, Vt., Herald.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills

(CUBAN CHANGED AND IMPROVED.)

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their testimony and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach,

DR J C AYER, SIR I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they relieve at once. If they will cure others as they have me, they are worth knowing. Yours with great respect, ED W PLEBBE, Cor. of Fulton.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaint,

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D.C. SIR I have used your Pills in my practice and in my family ever since you made them and must say frankly that they are the best cathartic we employ. Their sugar coating renders the liver is quick and decided consequently a valuable remedy for derangements of that organ. We have seldom found a case of bilious disorder that did not readily yield to them. Personally and professionally yours, ALONZO BALL, M D., Physician of the Interior.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, Me. Co. MESS. J. C. AYER & CO. DEAR SIRS: Your Pills are the perfection of purgatives. I have done my wife no good than I ever did by a dose or two of your Pills which soon cured her, expelling a large amount of worms (6 in) from her body. They also relieved me and one two children, both dysentery. One of my children had it bad, and my wife cured it with Pills in two days, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars bills, and lost much time, without being cured. I shall use them in such a medicine as yours while I practice physic, and honesty, will be prized by GEO J GRIFFIN, M D.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev J T Hurst, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills in my family and among those I am visiting. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the best remedy I have ever known, and I confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J T HURST.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N Y., 1853.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my family, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the blood and rectify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G MEACHEM.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Physician of Merchant of St. Louis.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the best purgative of all the medicine. They have cured my little daughter, who broke out upon her hands and feet that had grown upon her for months. Her mother has been long and severely afflicted with pimples on her skin and in her hair. Your Pills have cured her, and she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev Dr Hawkes of the PLEASANT HOUSE, SAVANNA, GA., Dec 1, 1858.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief you have brought me if I did not report my case to you. I suffered in my limbs and through my system with rheumatism and neuralgia, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Nothing relieved me. The best physicians the disease grew worse and worse, until the advice of your excellent agent in Savannah induced me to try your Pills. Their effects were magical. I tried your Pills. Their effects were magical. I was relieved by the use of them. I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, La., 1858.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of a chronic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for many years. VINCENT

For Dropsy, Plethora, or Watery Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are a valuable remedy.

For Costiveness or Casualty Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alternative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in our market contain Mercury, which is a valuable remedy in skilful hands, but a dangerous poison in the hands of the ignorant. From the dreadful consequences that follow the use of Quack Nostrums these Pills contain no mercury or anything else that can injure the most tender child. They contain no mercury or anything else that can injure the most tender child whatever.

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of advanced stages of that disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues, for every town, and almost every hamlet of the land, has been cured by its use. Nor is it known only in its immediate localities, but its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it known and established its reputation abroad. Clergymen, Lawyers, Statesmen, and Actors, have made it known to the world, that by its timely use they were relieved of hoarseness, and other alarming symptoms, when all other remedies had failed. Singers and Actors find it the best preparation in the world to allay irritation of the throat, and clear the voice for use. Public speakers find relief from its occasional use, when taken before speaking. Many Ministers of the Gospel, who have been obliged to relinquish their sacred calling, because their lungs were thought to be affected, have found their health restored by the timely use of this remedy. Many Physicians, who have lost all faith in the power of medicine to cure pulmonary complaints, have been induced to try this remedy, and have been surprised at the results. Many public singers, who have been obliged to leave the concert room, because they could not sing, have been restored to health by the use of this remedy. Many Lawyers, who have been obliged to plead their cases before the Courts, have found relief by the use of this remedy. Many Judges, who have been troubled with severe coughs, while on the bench, have been relieved by the use of this remedy. Many Merchants, who have been troubled with coughs, while selling goods, have been relieved by the use of this remedy. Many Mechanics, who have been troubled with coughs, while working at their trades, have been relieved by the use of this remedy. Many Farmers, who have been troubled with coughs, while working on their farms, have been relieved by the use of this remedy. Many Housekeepers, who have been troubled with coughs, while keeping house, have been relieved by the use of this remedy. Many Children, who have been troubled with coughs, while going to school, have been relieved by the use of this remedy. Many Students, who have been troubled with coughs, while studying their lessons, have been relieved by the use of this remedy. Many Teachers, who have been troubled with coughs, while teaching their schools, have been relieved by the use of this remedy. Many
